"MADAME X" PLEASES AUDIENCE AT MYERS

Alice De Lane Heads Capable Company in Strong Tragic Drama Here Saturday Evening.

Few persons who were fortunate enough to witness the presentation of Madame X at the Myers Theatre Saturday afternoon and evening, were not moved to tears by the heart-rending last act of the tragic drama in which mother and son are finally brought face to face after years of separation in which the mother has drunk deeply of the cup of sorrow and disgrace. The situation is dramatic enough. The woman charged with the murder of her false lover, is in court and as her lawyer there appears a young man, none other than her son. He secures her acquittal in a straightforward appeal to the jury and then comes the revelation of his intimate relation to the prisoner, he so ably defended.

Alice De Lane in the part of Madame X interpreted that character with life-like correctness. A character which might be easily overplayed and exaggerated, she realized the necessity of constraint and achieved a remarkable success. Boyd Tronsdale as Raymond Floriot, son of the mysterious Madame X, acted with ease and grace. He did not throw into the part the intense feeling, perhaps, which it called for. Carl Berch as the husband who drove his wife from his door for one indiscretion for which she was fully repentant, later to his most bitter sorrow, gave to the part all the realism possible. Other characters were well taken and the company was a strong one. The drama is one which appeals to the emotion of mother love in a striking manner.

LINK AND PIN

Recent changes in the tariff rate for passenger service from the Janesville station to and from Milton Junction over the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, have been ordered by the railroad commission and hereafter the fare to the Junction will be eighteen cents.

For a period of over a year the St. Paul company has charged passengers to and from Milton Junction twenty cents, and the fare to old Milton was only sixteen. On a petition of the citizens of the Junction an appeal was made to the railroad commission of the state as the distance was only nine miles and the railroad had been charging them for a distance of ten miles. The matter has finally been adjusted to the satisfaction of the citizens of both Janesville and Milton Junction.

OBITUARY

A. A. Alexander, a venerable resident of Milton, passed away at his home at five o'clock Saturday afternoon following an illness of long duration. Leighton will be the officiating clergyman.

REPRESENTATIVE OF HUERTA IN CAPITAL

(c) Harris & Ewing

Senor Manuel de Zamacona e Inclan.

Senor Manuel de Zamacona e Inclan, former Mexican ambassador to the United States, is in Washington. He insists that he came to this country on private business, but cannot explain the fact that just prior to his departure from Mexico City the Huerta government had sent word to the United States asking whether he would be received in Washington. It is believed he is attempting to negotiate a loan from New York bankers.

IF CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH AND SICK

Look Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well-played child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here; get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

He leaves for France this month, and will pilot the American machine in the forthcoming race for the Gordon Bennett cup.

William T. Jerome (left) being taken to jail by Canadian constable.

Canadian justice, especially in the little burg of Coaticook, tries very hard to be stern. When William T. Jerome, representing the state of New York in the Shaw proceedings in Canada, was arrested for playing a game of cards, he said to the constable, "Lead on." But the latter didn't lead. He grabbed Mr. Jerome roughly by the collar and pushed him along in the direction of the jail, where the noted lawyer was imprisoned for two hours.

The resolution is now before the rules committee of the house, which is not expected to consider it favorably.

PROMINENT MILTON RESIDENT IS DEAD

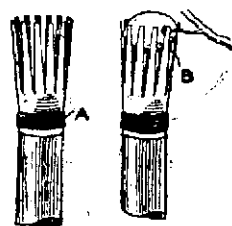

Arch. T. Alexander, Resident of County for 69 Years, Passes Away. Funeral on Tuesday.

Milton, Sept. 15.—Arch. T. Alexander died in Milton on Saturday morning, after an illness lasting ten weeks. Mr. Alexander has resided continuously in Milton for the last 69 years, and was one of the best known men in the community, being the last surviving member of a well-known Scotch family and having served on the village board since its incorporation, until the past winter. Funeral services will be conducted from his late residence in Milton on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. W. A. Leighton of the Congregational church officiating, assisted by Rev. A. L. McClelland of Madison, and Rev. M. A. Drew of Milton.

cuts and then the cane is wound with wire tightly at the place marked A to keep it from splitting, says the Popular Mechanic.

To pick figs or other small fruit, simply insert the stem of the fruit in one of the slots B and push upward on the cane with a slight twist. The fruit will fall into the opening of the cane without being bruised.

HORTICULTURAL NOTES

Remember the apple is mostly water.

Properly thinned fruit trees need no props.

A safe rule to follow: Keep stock out of the orchard.

Coal tar is an excellent remedy for the peach tree borer.

A catalpa grove will yield its first crop in about ten years.

There is a small trade every fall in potted strawberry plants.

Cut out "water-sprouts" at any time. Also pear-blight and black-knot.

A bolt through a weak tree crotch may save a split tree—if applied in time.

Posts for light fencing, such as wire or lath, are easily and quickly made from alnus.

If dwarf and unsightly limbs have not been taken off the trees, now is a good time to do so.

Thinning the tree fruits has come to stay. Like spraying, orchard heating and honest goods in an honest package.

If the strawberry plants are vigorous, and the bed not too weedy, it may pay to renovate it for another year.

If you spray you will have apples—too many for the trees to carry and the soil to feed in droughty years, at least.

selected as the secretary of the commission, is a Milwaukeean, a newspaper man, and familiar with sport and boxing.

How these prize fighting persons gurrell! There was the Corbett-Fitzsimmons argument a few days ago and now Pecky and Tommy Burns are having a heated dispute on the sport jacket. Pecky, who has broken with Burns and is no longer under his management, goes on to tell how the fight last March with Tommy was all a frame-up and that they had rehearsed the thing many times in a garret. Pecky doesn't say what garret or where, but it sounds reasonable. "We are up against it at the time for change," says Arthur, "and Burns made me fail for this frame-up thing so as to reap a little coin. It was all pre-arranged. I was to be floored twice and he was to go down once. Every move of the six rounds had been planned beforehand." Burns denies the whole story and laughs at it as absurd. "The fight was all on the level every bit of the way," says Tommy. "Although I do think that I could have put Pecky out in the fourth round if I had been in the mood."

After all you can't blame the Yanks so much for reposing in the bottom booth. It's this way: they don't like N. Y. city. They are quite willing to win games away from home, but so great is their distaste for Manhattan that they all but refuse to win while playing on the home lot. Their average of games won at home this season is 321 and while away they manage to pile up an average of 373. The difference of fifty-two points being the result of their dislike for the 2-hour town.

BUTTERS' AIRTIGHT PITCHING DEFEATS EDGERTON SUNDAY

Janesville Cardinals Tounce Tobacco City Nine by Eight to One Score

—Butters Fans Twelve.

Three well scattered hits were all the Edgerton team could collect off the speed and benders of "Cuddy" Butters Sunday afternoon, when the Edgerton nine and the Janesville Cardinals fought it out for the third and deciding game of a series, and as these three bingles were backed up by good support from the Card in-networks, the locals romped off with the visitors by a eight to one score. Both teams made plenty of errors, the visitors being more woefully with men on the towpah.

Edgerton escaped the calculating in the first inning when after Butters had slipped three strikes over Whitford, Wilson dropped the ball and let the runner streak to second on a pushed ball. He scored on an infield error. Edgerton's fond hopes were given a severe crash after this, as Butters fanned the next two men, Janesville started right but failed to engineer stuff to put Ryan, first man up who walked, around the counting station. Sullivan came through with a neat sacrifice but was ripped at the instant bag. Heil failed to deliver the hit to let Ryan gallop home as he boosted a high fly, the ball falling in a well. All was serene in the second for both teams, Janesville creating a little excitement when Nehr knocked a long fly to the other garden.

Hanson, a bush league pitcher, reports, claiming the lake shore circuit as his stamping ground, began to show signs of discouragement in the fourth, and before the session was completed his spirit had dropped to a zero point. Porter started badly with a strike-out, Hanson very confident. Heil was out at first and there was nothing looking like a rally as yet. With two gone Butters connected and went to the keystone sack, scoring on Nehr's lift. Nehr registered when Berger was given life on an error. Hanson looked more worried.

Edgerton was lucky in the sixth, as six men batted, the first two being able to populate the circuit, but a double play shut off the scores. Coming back strong in the seventh the Cards started. Daily on the tobacco gun when Ryan popped out a bit and Daily helped matters by puncturing Porter and Cuddy and Nehr put two markers across. Ryan having been caught at the home plate. Just to show the visitors up the Cards showed two more scores across in the eighth by some hard clouting. Wilson, Sullivan and Heil being the boys to tan the horsehide for the run getting slams.

Cuddy deserves great credit for the game he twirled as he fanned a dozen men, walked one man and should have held his opponents scoreless with better support. The Card infield was guilty of more errors than looks good in the score book, making seven blunders. Stewart being the worst offender, falling down on three chances, while Wilson slipped on two and Whitford's Ryan lost his man on a hard chance.

Summary: Janesville, Wilson, c; Butters, p; Heil, ss; Porter, 1b; Stewart, 2b; Ryan, 3b; Berger, 1b; Nehr, cf; Sullivan, rf; Edgerton: Daly, c; Hanson, p; Gleve, 1b; Mohr, 2b; Whitford, 3b; Treverrah, ss; Kirkoff, 1b; Randauf, cf; and Hallet, rf.

Next Sunday Footville will play the locals and there is sure to be some battle as the village nine is out to even up the beating the Cards gave them and Philie will oppose Butters. The Cards will have to fight to the last ditch to win.

On the twenty-eighth the Cardinals are to cross bats with the state league team from Madison and a big turnout of fans is expected as the locals, with some strengthening, will give the leaguers a good run for a victory. Butters will probably be sent against his former team mates.

Hanson was no weakling at the pitching game as he had good stuff on the ball, fanning nine Janesville men, but poor support and lousy valuations were too much for him.

Each team was credited with a single stolen base, Butters being guilty of the rubbing ac for Janesville and Whitford heading Wilson's throw for the visitors.

Hanson developed wild swings during the game, uncorking three wild chucks that helped greatly in the pinches.

LOCAL WHITE SOX DOWN BELOIT NINE

Connell Fans Sixteen Beloit Men and Only Allows Six Hits Winning By Six to Two Score.

With "Doc" Connell on the slab the White Sox had a walk-away with the Collie Hill nine of Beloit, Sunday afternoon at the Collie Hill diamond situated south of the state line. Connell's curves took all the fight and steam out of his opponents and sixteen of them took three lousy swings at the elusive ball. The pleasing statistics stood six to two.

The Sox infield came in for its share of praise after the Sox run in a flock of runs in the first chapter the Beloit men had great difficulty in landing on the sacks and it was seldom that they made the far corner bag. Three hits were all the Beloiters could muster off Connell's pitching, two of these coming within an earshot of the other, gave them a tally in the first inning and they put another across in the fourth. The Sox showed hostility to the Beloit battery man the first inning when Cronin was given a ticket to first, stole, went third on Fineran's hit and both runners scored on a healthy Texas leaguer by the next batter. In the fourth, two doubles, two singles linked with a walk and several errors put the Sox with a safe lead of six runs. After this outburst Beloit changed twirlers and umpires and the Sox were very much thereafter not being able to score despite a long double by Stickney in the eighth with Ryan holding down second when the blow came. In sliding to home on the whallop Ryan spiked the Beloit backstop severely but was tagged out.

Lineup: French, c; Connell, p; Britt, ss; Stickney, 1b; Dalton, 2b; Ryan, 3b; Cronin, Stewart, Kennedy and Fineran fielders.

Good Way of Ending Duel. Some years ago two determined rivals decided to fight a duel with dynamite. They arranged that each should sit on a barrel of dynamite to which a fuse was attached. Which ever fuse burned down first would, of course, have decided which was the winner. As luck would have it, however, both fuses went out some time before the dynamite was reached, and the rivals were so astonished at this unexpected happening that they made up their quarrel then and there.

MILWAUKEE TALKS.

Last winter when the question of removing the state fair from Milwaukee was under discussion before the state legislature, delegations of Milwaukee men appeared before the various committees and urged the retention of the fair at its present site at West Allis. All sorts of promises were made to influence the committee having the matter in charge to report favorably as to Milwaukee. Such a report was made. Janesville, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, the Fox river valley, were not even seriously considered. Promises and politics played their part and the fair remains in Milwaukee. The Nineteen Thirteen fair has been held. There is a deficit in the treasury. Inclement weather, perhaps, played its part, but the fact remains that the fair lost money. The fair board criticised Milwaukee people for not turning out in larger numbers. In reply the Milwaukee Free Press makes the following statement which is at variance with the statements made by the Milwaukee committee before the legislative committee last winter. They say:

"Isn't it about time for the realization that Milwaukee has no material benefit from the fair and that its support is prompted largely by ideal reasons?"

"Isn't it about time, too, for the realization that a state fair must be conducted so as to invite and stimulate patronage from the whole state instead of depending wholly on the charity and good-will of the people of Milwaukee?"

The Sentinel also goes into the question and makes suggestions as to the methods that should be used in conducting the 1914 fair. It suggests that there be no evening entertainments at the fair grounds, that the visitors be entertained in Milwaukee. This is perhaps the real reason for the strenuous efforts that were made last winter to hold the fair in Milwaukee. They want the money the fair visitors bring and in return they boost the prices of everything so that the average fair visitor does not go to Milwaukee again after one experience. The real Milwaukee visitors during the fair week usually stay down town all the time and never go near the fair grounds. Take for example last week. The state board of control, the state board of normal school regents, the railway commission, the state oil inspectors, the majority of the state game wardens who could be spared, the legislative vice committee, the forest reserve committee, the prison inspectors and the majority of the state officers and their office forces as well as a majority of the legislature of 1913, were in the city for political purposes. Every one of these gentlemen visited the fair grounds at all. They went in passes. Game wardens and oil inspectors had "jobs" at the grounds, drawing double pay from the state, also clerks from various offices in the state capital were likewise favored. These men were in Milwaukee for politics, not to visit the fair. The fair was the excuse for the gathering of the faithful but it was only an excuse. If the management of the state fair had advertised the fastest race in the country, had hung up the biggest prizes for stock and other exhibits, the result would have been the same. You can find plenty of Milwaukee people who will boast of the fact they never have attended the state fair since it was established in their midst. In their midst is good. It takes as long to get from the center of Milwaukee's business district to the fair grounds and return as it does to go to Chicago from Milwaukee—that is, actual running time.

At the Milwaukee state fair, located between the cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis, the attendance is something to talk about. Rain or shine out and make the fair a success, financially and as a result the best horses, the best stock and the best exhibits of every class are exhibited there. Milwaukee gets a portion of these exhibits but not the cream. The races for the past three years at Milwaukee have been jokes. Hardly enough entries have been received to start. In fact in one race there were but two entries for a good-sized purse. One day the purses in these races exceeded the actual money taken in at the gates. Every county fair in the state has as good if not better race cards. The Janesville Driving Park association's meet in August, but three days, was as far superior to Milwaukee's six days of racing as day is to night. Milwaukee demanded the fair be left at West Allis and the legislature listened to its pleadings and now they fail to support it. This is the problem that confronts the state fair board and they are not to be blamed. Even the sheriff of Milwaukee county took occasion to hand the fair a jolt when he announced he would withdraw all his deputy sheriffs from the grounds and leave them without police protection because his deputies were not given all the free passes they desired and free meals at the expense of the state when paid for their work by the county of Milwaukee at the rate of three dollars a day. Perhaps the next legislature will take all these things into consideration at their next session and not listen to the promises of a city that does not appreciate what is being given it free gratis. Taking it all in all if the state employees had remained away from Milwaukee the attendance at the fair would have been far less than it was, and considering the attractions it is a disgrace to the state as a whole that it was not a financial success.

A Brooklyn woman has been allowed $1 a week alimony. All she required, of course, was the means to support herself in the manner to which she had become accustomed.

Having seen no government report to the contrary, it can perhaps be taken for granted that the amateur garden crop came out all right.

The first umbrella made its appearance in 1777. But probably the first good place to hide it did not appear until some time later.

The man who tried to pass Confederate money in Detroit evidently made the mistake of thinking he was in New York.

Secretary Lane has suffered a breakdown due to overwork, but it is not known that Secretary Bryan is in danger.

After China's civilization becomes well established, Japan won't have to go very far whenever it is looking for trouble.

It's impossible to stop them. An armless woman voted in a suburb of Chicago by marking her ballot with her toes.

After all that has been said and done, the best thing about Governor Suizer seems to be his wife.

HEART TO HEART TALKS.

A SNAPSHOT OF TAFT.

I had a good opportunity recently to study the personality of President Taft.

He is a big man who is undeniably and palpably fat.

Since the days of Falstaff the pudgy figure of the man of adipose has stood for sleek good nature, bland manners, unctuous speech and slow locomotion.

But our 300 pound president is not slow.

It is undeniable that he waddles in his walk, like a duck, though the Taft waddle is not so well known as the Taft smile—because "Big Bill" usually rides in a carriage.

The president is stout, even fat, without being obese; he is portly without being puffy, and he is anything but lazy. He is neither slow on his feet nor sluggish in his mind.

Taft can do a day's work—seventeen speeches a day—along with any lean and hungry Cassius.

He has a suave smile, but—be warned—just because he doesn't wrinkle his brow and enshroud his soul in gloom is no sign he is lacking in decision.

He may or may not think your way or mine, but he thinks. Moreover, he is nimble to catch a suggestion from his surroundings and is far removed from the ponderous Cleveland style of utterance.

And that smile!

It has fooled many a politician and has carried Taft over many a crisis.

His enemies remember the saying concerning the fellow who smiles and smiles and is a villain still.

Certain it is that behind the glossy and jellied surface of the man's exterior, over which no wave of trouble seems to roll; behind the easy laugh and the hearty manner, back of the sleek badges of good fellowship, are an incisive judgment and an obstinacy like a stone wall.

Taft is a diplomat.

He is a better politician than he is credited with being.

Whether or not he is a patriot, seeking only the good of his country, people are disagreed.

Meanwhile the cartoonist revels in the wrinkles of the presidential chin.

THAW'S FATE RESTS WITH N. H. GOVERNOR

The fate of Harry Thaw now rests in the hands of Governor Felker of New Hampshire. If Felker signs extradition papers permitting New York authorities to carry Thaw back to that state, the slayer of Stanford White in all likelihood will be hustled back to Mattawoman, there to spend the remainder of his days in close confinement. Felker says he will follow the advice of the attorney general of the state as to extradition. The attorney general says: "It is a matter alone for the governor to decide."

HOUSE LEADERS SAY CURRENCY BILL WILL GO TO THE SENATE THIS WEEK

Democratic leaders of the house are confident the administration currency bill will pass that body and go to the senate by September 12. There is no organized opposition to the measure in the lower chamber.

The bill may not have smooth sailing in the senate. But four members of the banking and currency committee of that body unequivocally defend the administration measure. They are Senators Owen, Pomerehne, Hollis and Shafer.

Senator Weeks of Massachusetts, Republican, has introduced a resolution in the senate, providing that the currency bill go over until congress next convenes in December.

DEATH OF GAYNOR LEAVES 2 IN RACE

Had Proved It.

"Daughter," called the father from his position at the top of the stairs, at the well-known hour of 11:55 p. m., "doesn't that young man know how to say good-night?" "Does he?" echoed the young lady in the darkened hall; "well, I should say he does."

The death of Mayor Gaynor of New York leaves but two in the race for mayor of that city and brings much grief to Tammany Hall. Had Gaynor lived he would have become a candidate for re-election, and thus would have split the opposition to Tammany, making the election of McCall, Democratic candidate, a practical certainty. All Tammany opposition will now unite to elect John Purroy Mitchell, the Fusionists' candidate.

Character Told by the Feet.

The person who lacks firmness of character, directness of purpose and the potentiality which compels success is revealed in him who sits with one foot brought closely up to the other at the back and with the knees of both limbs bent. On the other hand, the individual who sits with the feet firmly set on the ground and apart two or three feet can be trusted to be one capable of transacting a matter to a successful issue, through no luck but downright energy and capability of character.

Platinum Used by Counterfeiters.

Platinum was a favorite metal with counterfeiters some years ago, when its intrinsic value was about six dollars an ounce. Many spurious ten and twenty-dollar United States gold pieces were turned out chiefly composed of this metal. The coins of Great Britain were also tampered with in the same manner.

The fate of Harry Thaw now rests in the hands of Governor Felker of New Hampshire. If Felker signs extradition papers permitting New York authorities to carry Thaw back to that state, the slayer of Stanford White in all likelihood will be hustled back to Mattawoman, there to spend the remainder of his days in close confinement. Felker says he will follow the advice of the attorney general of the state as to extradition. The attorney general says: "It is a matter alone for the governor to decide."

"Fool's Paradise."

By a "fool's paradise" is meant a vain hope, and, secondarily, unlawful pleasure, or anything promising what can never be fulfilled. The phrase comes from the old schoolmen in ecclesiastical history, who taught that just outside of Paradise was a "limbus fatuorum," or paradise of fools, where those who had not the full use of their senses in life spent their eternity—neither in heaven or hell, but very near to the abode of the blessed.

Lacrosse the Red Men's Game.
Lacrosse is the national ball game of Canada. It came from the aboriginal red men, who doubtless played it for many centuries before the discovery of the new world. Different tribes played it in different ways, and it was usually very rough. The name was given to it by the French Canadians, who saw the resemblance between the curved netted stick used in playing it and a bishop's crozier or crosse.

LOUIS BELDEN DEAD; STRUCK BY A TRAIN

Died Early This Morning at Mercy Hospital Where Mangled Body Was Taken Late Sunday Night.

Struck and terribly mangled by the fast stock freight, No. 578, from Elkhorn, shortly after eleven o'clock last night at the Northwestern passenger depot, Louis Belden passed away at Mercy hospital shortly after four o'clock this morning. Both legs were crushed, one arm was severely smashed, his head was badly battered, and internal injuries were also inflicted. It was evident to the physicians who were called to attend him that he could not live but a few hours as he suffered from loss of blood. He did not regain consciousness.

There was no one who saw the accident. It is thought that Belden attempted to catch the train, missed his hold and dropped between the rails, only to be ground beneath the wheels. Carriers found the body shortly after the train had passed. It was lying beside the station platform at the end farthest from Academy street. When it was noted that he was dead, Patrolman Thomas Morrissey, who was on duty, sent for the ambulance and Belden was rushed to the hospital where Dr. E. F. Woods and Dr. G. W. Pugh made an examination.

Belden was identified until about midnight when Patrolman Patrick Fanning and Sam Brown were called to the hospital. They at once recognized him as Belden and Officer Brown at once drove to the Belden home on South Franklin street. Notifying the man's mother, Mrs. Carrie Belden, and his sister, Cora Belden, of the accident. They went at once to the hospital where they remained until Belden's death.

Belden had been out of work most of the summer and had been seen on the streets frequently. He kept out of trouble although it was reported that he had engaged in an altercation with a stranger in the downtown railroad yards some time before the accident last night. It is thought that he attempted to catch the freight to ride to the South Janesville yards. Belden was held for trial at the February term of the circuit court charged with murder in the second degree against Edward P. Ryan, but was acquitted.

Besides his mother and sister residing in this city, he is survived by another sister living at Stoughton.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning from the home on South Franklin street, the Reverend Joseph C. Hazen officiating. The remains will be taken to Stoughton for interment.

SUBSTANTIATES THE EXTENSION RUMORS

Northwestern Line Has Now Opened Its New Branch into Illinois Coal Districts.

Substantiation of the story published in the Gazette several months ago that the Chicago & Northwestern line was extending their line into St. Louis is found in the following statement from a Rockford paper which says that the increase of connections between the railroad systems which directly serve Rockford and the south central parts of the state goes into effect forthwith, according to the announcement made by the management of the Chicago & Northwestern road of the opening of the new extension into the central Illinois coal fields Tuesday.

Starting from Pekin and crossing the Illinois river on a new bridge, the road extends due south as the crow flies, ignoring all cities and towns en route until reaching Girard, the northern terminal of the original branch constructed ten years ago between Girard and Bond, in Macoupin county, a distance of 25 miles. The final branch was laid out with a view of connecting a string of coal mines owned by the Northwestern and sunk for the purpose of supplying the system with fuel. Since the new branch was first placed in service, the coal mined has been hauled to Girard by Northwestern engines and crews and then taken north by the Chicago & Northwestern to the Rockford terminal at a connecting point especially Chicago. As the coal originating from the mines of the Northwestern averaged 300 loads daily, the Alton has enjoyed a profitable extra revenue, which it will close after Monday.

The newly constructed extension, in connection with the first branch from Girard to Bond, has a mileage of 112.2 miles. A traffic arrangement has been perfected by which the Rockford & Pekin Union will handle the Northwestern coal between Pekin and Peoria and turn it over to the Northwestern for delivery to the Rockford terminal. The extension has been in course of construction for fourteen months. Two engine tracks were laid in order to expedite the movement of the coal and other traffic. There are no new grades and 4,000-ton trains will be possible over the entire branch. The actual cost of the construction is said to be $2,000,000. The extension will ultimately reach St. Louis, it is claimed, in order to secure a share of the passenger traffic for the north-west.

HANDS STIFF TERM TO OLD OFFENDER

Ed Walrath Committed to Jail For Seventy Days For Drunkenness

Three Others Sentenced.

Janesville will soon have its reputation as a poor town in which "to go on a spree" and old offenders will think twice before inebriating too freely. If Judge Maxfield continues his program of severe sentences on persons brought before him for drunkenness, a seventy day term was handed out to Ed Walrath, a "repeater" who pleaded guilty to a drunkenness charge this morning. This is the heaviest sentence which Judge Maxfield has imposed and indicates that he has no notion of adopting a lenient course toward persons who offend public decency.

Three others appeared in court this morning charged with the same offense. W. D. Wright received ten days in default of a ten dollar fine payment; Mark Tapley, who had been in this city a week, received fifteen days, and John Ryan, another stranger, will serve thirty days.

All the men were committed under chapter 625 of the laws of 1913 which requires the sheriff to furnish them with employment. Those are plenty of work waiting for them, too, as Sheriff Whipple called at the police station this morning inquiring as to the probable supply that he could expect tomorrow. All were provided with jobs at once and will pass their time at hard labor.

EXPLANATION AS TO THE WINDOW EPISODE

Letter to Agent Stevens From Mr. Stocks States They Had No Part In Matter.

Acting under the orders of the owner of the property, F. L. Stevens, agent for a flat building, last week nailed up a window leading onto the roof in the rear of several flats to keep the tenants from using the roof for laundry purposes. In Saturday evening's Gazette a story was published of the alleged imprisonment of Mr. Stevens while enforcing the orders of his employer in which the name of Mr. Stocks was used as one of the tenants affected by the matter.

Mr. Stevens has received the following letter from Mr. Stocks, which explains itself and asks publication of same. He also states he acted simply under orders of his employer, the owner of the property. The letter is as follows:

Dear Sir:
In last night's Gazette there was an article holding you up to the ridicule of your readers. I wish to give you my personal assurance that neither my wife nor myself had anything to do with it. Our relations as agent and tenant have always been pleasant and such a contemptible piece of business has never even entered our minds. The orders which you gave regarding the roof have been strictly lived up to since we were notified not to go upon it. Furthermore we have had nothing to do with opening the windows, after being nailed shut. With this assurance of our intentions, I beg to be

Yours truly,
T. J. STOCKS.

Top, William J. Bryan and President Cabrera; bottom, John Bassett Moore.

Secretary of State Bryan and Counsellor John Bassett Moore have under consideration the proposal of sending a friendly note to the five nations composing Central America, sounding out the people of the subject of amalgamation. Estrada Cabrera, president of Guatemala, favors union. Costa Rica is opposed to the proposition. The countries involved are Guatemala, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras and Salvador. Cabrera is regarded as the strong man in Central America. He has been able to keep himself in office since 1898 without a revolution of any consequence.

MUCH ACTIVITY ON PANAMA FAIR SITE; STEAMERS BRING 60,000,000 FEET OF TIMBER

President C. C. Moore of the Panama exposition; steamers unloading lumber on fair site.

There is great activity on the site of the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco these days. More than 25,000,000 feet of timber has already been discharged at the docks to be used in the main exhibit palaces, and more than that much more will be brought in during the next few months. As many as nine steamers discharge cargoes at one time.

Hadn't Made Much Progress.

Three-year-old Freddie morning insisted upon dressing himself, saying he knew he could put his clothes on in the right order. After some argument his mother reluctantly gave in to his pleadings, and taking off the little fellow's nightie, left the room. For fully 15 minutes there was a dead silence in the bedroom, and then the mother heard Freddie loudly calling out: "Mamma, who goes on next to nothing?"

Origin of the Term Swan-Song.

The idea of the sentiment conveyed by the words "swan song" is that the swan when dying sings for the first time. As a matter of fact swans do not sing at any time, and this interesting saying is said to be derived from an old Norse legend which has to do with the Valkyries, mythical maidens in armor with wings of a swan, who when they floated over the scene of a battle sang the song of death.

The announcement that Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, mother of English militant suffragism, is to spend several months in America, has caused various emotions to surge in the breasts of various people. English statesmen and King George, who are scared when she's around loose, are glad she's to leave England. Harry Thaw is sore because he thinks she may crowd him out of the spotlight. Vaudeville managers are pleased at the prospect of getting hold of a real live drawing card.

LOCAL MARKETS.

The trade on the market this morning was rather brisk although no new vegetables or products were on the market. Seckle pears for pickling were the only fruit that was new during the last few days and they are selling for sixty cents a bushel. Housewives report that the local market is of very fine quality and is selling at a good demand at fifteen cents. Cucumbers are high priced this year as the dry weather when the vines were in the blossoming stage wrecked hopes of a record crop. Different prices govern their sale but as an average they bring from two a half to five cents apiece.

Janesville, Wis., Sept. 15, 1913. Vegetables—Potatoes $1.00 bu.; new cabbage, 4c lb; lettuce 10c head; carrots, 5c bunch; beans, 5c bunch; Texas onions, 5c lb; green onions, 2

Those who imagine that a creative artist can, through the medium of his art, express his feelings at the moment when he is moved, make the greatest mistake. Emotions, and or joyful, can only be expressed retrospectively, so to speak. Without any special reason for rejoicing, I may be moved by the same cheerful creative mood, and, vice versa, a work composed amid the happiest surroundings may be touched with dark and gloomy colors.—Tschakowsky.

Composer's Moods.

There are so many musical luminaries of the name of Strauss—living, dead, and moribund—that it is small wonder that the Frohman announcement of a new Strauss opera created confused inferences. The opera bought by Mr. Frohman is by Oscar Strauss—the Austrian composer of "The Waltz Dream" and "The Chocolate Soldier"—who, now in his forty-third year, is composing as brilliantly and as copiously as ever.

MEXICAN REBELS EXPLODE FEDERAL POWDER CAR; MANY KILLED AND INJURED AND BUSINESS SECTION OF TOWN IS DESTROYED

After the explosion at Tacabaya.

A federal car loaded with powder, passing through Tacabaya, Mexico, was fired by the rebels, and the explosion which resulted practically destroyed the business section of that place. Many natives were killed or injured. After the explosion the havoc wrought resembled the ruins left in the wake of an earthquake. For miles around the natives who heard the roar and report of the explosion and felt the shock of it, believed they were passing through an upheaval of the earth.

Evergreen Scent.

Evergreen trees of any kind can be made to yield up their sweet scent in the winter if their branches and boughs be gathered for use in the open fire. The needles will usually fall as the branches dry, but if they are dried on newspapers or a large sheet of cheesecloth they can be easily gathered up to burn. Pine trees are especially fragrant and pine cones make a roaring and picturesque fire, besides giving off a breath of the pine woods whenever they are burned.

Was Not in Speaker's Mind.

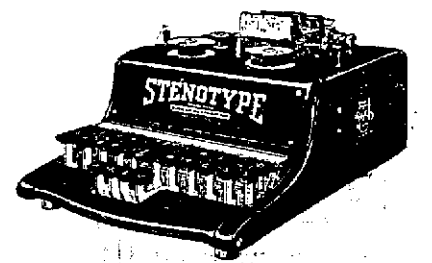

On one occasion, when a certain legislative candidate, known as a clever speaker and very effective in dealing with a hostile audience, was addressing a meeting in his constituency, he had no sooner risen and said, "Gentlemen," than some one threw an egg at him. Quite unperturbed, he turned to the offender and said: "I was not speaking to you, sir."

A New Era--The Age of the Stenotype

The Solution of the Stenographic Problem For the Business Man and Stenographer

WHAT THE STENOTYPE IS.

THE STENOTYPE IS THE FASTEST WRITING MACHINE KNOWN IN THE WORLD TODAY. The Stenotype weighs but eight pounds. It is the result of six years of research, study and experiment by men of the highest standing and broadest experience in the shorthand and technical world. It has been unqualifiedly endorsed and is used by the greatest business and financial institutions wherever a demonstration has been given. The Stenotype is the final and completing step in progress of perfecting methods of dictation; and has the same unquestionable and well recognized advantages over shorthand that the typewriter has over longhand.

The fastest short-hand writing machine in the world.

What the Stenotype Does:

The stenotype enables the ordinary stenographer to write from 125 to 200 words per minute. It writes in plain type face. It combines absolute machine accuracy and plain type legibility with practically unlimited speed. The Stenotype, with two typewriter operators, will do in three hours what three good stenographers can do in two days. It saves two-thirds of the business man's time and adds a third to the stenographer's salary. It gives the business man absolute freedom to dictate any subject matter at any speed and with the positive and absolute assurance that the transcript will be correct, and unlike all other machines or methods of dictation, the installation of the Stenotype does not cost the business man a single cent.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

NOBODY EVER DOES.

ONE OF THE greatest of all enemies of progress of any sort is the phrase, or rather the state of mind behind the phrase, "Nobody ever does."

The idea that if a thing were possible and practicable to do it would have been done before sometimes has a good, solid foundation, but quite as often it has none at all.

In the old fishing town of Gloucester, half a century ago, a fisherman got it into his head that he might utilize the stickiness which has always been a recognized characteristic of the finny tribe in making glue. Everyone said at once that that was impossible, because if it were not, it would have been done before. Fishes had always had the same properties, they pointed out, and if these properties could have been utilized they would have been long ago. The fisherman said nothing but he went ahead and tried out his scheme. It succeeded and he made a fortune by it. History does not relate what became of the other fishermen who said it couldn't be done because nobody had ever done it, but you can easily imagine their "short and simple analysis."

"Why don't you try flavoring your gelatine with grape fruit?" I asked a neighbor of mine the other day. She had just been telling me how fond all her family were of grape fruit. "I don't think it would be good," said she. "Why not?" said I. "Well, nobody ever does use grape fruit for a flavoring," said she with an air of having completely settled the matter. Now, to be sure, grape fruit may not be a good flavoring, but I don't think that fact proves it, and the next time I make gelatine I am going to find out for myself.

As I said before, there are things when the fact that "nobody ever does" rests on the foundation of some insurmountable obstacle, for instance, on a trip to Jamaica a friend of mine had planned to bathe in the Caribbean Sea at Kingston. When he asked his fellow passengers about the bathing they all said, "It may be good. We don't know. Nobody ever does bathe there." When he reached Kingston he investigated further before giving up his project and found out the reason that nobody ever did bathe was that the bay was full of sharks. Needless to say, he was quite willing to give up his bath.

But you will notice he gave it up, not because nobody ever did, but because of the obstacle that stood behind that phrase.

And that to my mind is the right spirit, of an unquenchable feasible thing is never done, don't assume that it therefore cannot be done. Try to find out why. Quite often there will be no why, and that is your chance to be a pioneer and find out something for yourself.

and finely sliced cucumber may be used instead of the onion.

Best method in Onions. Select a nice onion of upper cut of the round steak. Heat the spider very hot and put in the steak; sear on one side and other, turn, keep doing this for five minutes. Cover the steak with very thin slices of onions. Season with butter, pepper and salt, and put just enough water in to cover the bottom of the pan. Cover closely and set where it will cook moderately. If the onion are not cooking fast enough turn the meat or the onions will come to the bottom. Serve with the hot onions on top of the steak.

Texas Sandwich Filling. One-half cup; cooked chicken livers, one-half cup; sweet red peppers, one-half cup; Bermuda onion, one-half cup; lettuce, broken and finely bread. Directions: Chop the ingredients in the food chopper, moisten with mayonnaise and season more if necessary. Use between buttered slices with a little shredded lettuce.

EVERY GIRL SHOULD BE TAUGHT ART NEEDLE WORK.

Hints for Embroiderers.

An embroidered piece should be washed by itself in an earthen bowl to avoid the possibilities of rust or other stain. Take fairly hot water and make a light soap of pure soap. Wash quickly. If the linen is soiled, rub the portion between your hands. Rinse thoroughly in clean water and lay the piece flat between two dry towels or thick linen cloths. Roll up in these so that no part of the embroidery can touch any other part of the same linen, and wrap or twist so that the dry linen will absorb the moisture. Leave in this condition until the material is absolutely dry. Lay the piece facing down upon a well-padded ironing board, spread a clean white cloth over the embroidery and iron quickly and lightly with a hot iron being careful not to press too heavily upon the embroidered portion. Iron placed upon the embroidery in which the silk is wet, will produce a steam, which will ruin the embroidery.

To remove starch from linen, put two cups of Fuller's earth in a saucepan, add a half ounce of white soap, the juice of two lemons and one cupful of vinegar. Boil together for a few minutes, strain into jar and keep covered for future use. Spread on the soiled parts with a knife and allow it to dry on. Simpler way would be to run the soiled article with dry starch.

Many home embroiderers have difficulty in working the new AXIOUS date stitches. A complete and practical course for making 24 different kinds of stitches is given with each Imperial Embroidery Pattern Outfit, which is being advertised at the present time in the columns of this paper. These instructions are illustrated and directions are given for making Outline Stitch, Chain Stitch, Seeding Stitch, French Knot, Couching, Satin Stitch, Eyelet Weave, Water Machine Embroidery, Cross Stitch, French Knots, Ragged Stitch, Solid Kensington, Roman Cut Work, etc.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

A very wholesome filling for sandwiches fed to children between meals is potatoes boiled to a just with salt.

Usually, when a young man loves a girl he can't see too much of her. He wants to be with her every possible minute.

There is some other very good reason why your fiancée cannot call on you more regularly. I should judge that your fiancée's ardent has cooled considerably. Also, I do not think a man can really love a young woman unless he is considerate of her. Though some men really don't know what consideration is for a woman, even when engaged to her. It might be a good idea to show this young man how independent of him you can be. If that doesn't bring him to time, you will perhaps be happier if you break the engagement.

Tomato Mole Sauce. A mudding mold, sprinkle the bottom with bread that has been soaked in milk and well squeezed out. Over this put a layer of finely chopped parsley, a layer of grated cheese and fresh peeled and sliced tomatoes. Then pour a little oil over the tomatoes and bake in a moderate oven for forty minutes. Serve very hot.

Fig Marmalade. To every pound of fresh figs allow one-half cupful of raisins, the juice of half a lemon and one-half pound of sugar. Put

SUGGESTIVE HELPS.

A trained nurse prevented all disagreeable after effects of chloroform after an operation by the use of vinegar. Cause the patient to inhale the fumes of vinegar from a saturated cloth. She said she had never known it to fail.

To clean a silk or net waist, put it into a two quart fruit jar nearly filled with gasoline. Let it stand over night, and in the morning, shake it back and forth. If quite soiled it may need rinsing in fresh gasoline.

When staying over night in a strange hotel, look for and locate the way to the fire escape before going into your room. Place a book or chair on the floor under the electric light fixture, so that it will be easy to find the globe.

Those of us who have groped for several minutes for a light fixture know how annoying it can be.

For a bruised finger nail, dip it in cold water and hold it upright for an hour and your nail will not turn black.

Open the faucet at the bottom of the hot water tank and let the water run off. This will remove the accumulation of rust in the pipes of the stove.

Dress shields covered with silk like the lining of the coat are not noticed and double the wear of the lining besides giving it the protection of the shield.

Slice the oranges on a potato chip slicer for orange marmalade, and they will be as thin as the famous imported marmalade.

One careful housekeeper keeps her plate racks always clean by washing one with each regular dish washing.

When carrying three or four books, slip the cover of one inside the other, which will keep them from slipping.

Fads and Fashions

New York, Sept. 15.—Once more school time has arrived and with it a period of half grown girls. Whether the girls live at home and visit local day schools, or whether they are at some boarding school or at camp in some distant town, they must have clothes and that fact is a great deal in the present days. The girls must have clothes for wear in school, clothes for use in the gymnasium, for the tennis court, and a variety of clothes for social calls, for the theatre and for walks in the woods.

To plan and design all these clothes for the mother is a great deal of thought and planning, not to speak of the cost of procuring such an outfit. If the mother depends upon a professional seamstress or a tailor, or purchases her daughter's clothes ready made, the problem is perhaps simplified in a measure, but the cost, of course, becomes much greater.

One of the most necessary things in a girl's wardrobe is a plentiful supply of blouses to be worn with her coat suit. The most sensible plan is to have these blouses made of wash materials. One colored blouse of good material, attractively made, is necessary for the afternoon hours, when the girls are allowed some time for amusement. For the rest she wants blouses of white muslin or wash silk. The latter are her special delight.

It is wise not to purchase cheap silk for these blouses, because it quickly goes to pieces on an active girl and is just that much money wasted. The better quality of silk pays for itself. It may come high in the beginning, but a blouse of the best quality of China silk will last two seasons and this under hard wear if it is washed properly. The Austrian and the English tub silks are the kind that girls prefer, because of the colored shades which give them a chance for a color scheme in the costume.

All silk blouses should be made simply. It is now the fashion to omit tucks and pleats, and to make a deep shoulder yoke which is edged with seam beading or a piping of the material. The lowered armhole with a loose sleeve is by far the best for a school girl, because it is less likely to tear on the length of the sleeve is for her to decide. The wrist length is the prettier, but the elbow length is more comfortable and economical.

If the sleeves are long, they should be finished simply with a two-inch turn over cuff, fastened through with link buttons. There is usually a frill down the front. This again is a question of individual preference, but it is a wise fact that all of these blouses no matter what the material, should be fastened down the front with small pearl buttons. The lace buttons are very good but they do not stand the pressure of the iron, and no school girl has the time or the inclination to do any mending.

White blouses should not be trimmed. It is not only fashionable, but sensible, to omit embroidery, lace, insets and scallops. Fortunately the shops have learned this, and one can find attractive plain blouses at almost any price. Heretofore they were difficult to get because the shops probably catering to the majority, covered even the cheapest white blouses with a coat of costly handwork. The present fashion calls for straight lines with a plain surface, or one covered with pleats.

The modern method of making a blouse is admirable for an active girl, because it no longer fits the figure smoothly at the belt, but droops over it in irregular folds for about two inches. This drooping, taken in connection with the lowered armholes, prolongs the life of a blouse for six months. When it was the fashion to pin them down to the waist line and pin them in place, they were constantly torn.

The kind of collar a girl should have on her blouse depends upon the taste and the figure of the girl. Most girls will choose the Robespierre or some other rolling collar that drops down to a point in front and is finished with a careless cravat of taffeta ribbon.

Many school girls nowadays continue to wear white wash blouses through the winter, depending upon a sweater or a fur coat for warmth. This idea is warmly indorsed by many doctors and athletic trainers. There is no reason why a strong girl should not retain her health in a costume that is so sufficiently warm or a tender child. There is no reason against wash skirts of pique, linen and duck, if she protects herself from the cold air when she goes out. These clothes are not economical, because a white skirt must go to the tub frequently, but the girls want them and the majority of parents are willing to grant their requests.

Every girl, her means permitting, should have at least four white skirts in her winter outfit. They may be worn on mild days in the winter and during the early spring. They should not have pleats in them. The two-piece pattern fastened down the front is an excellent model for everyday wear in school. The one-piece frock forms the principal article in a girl's wardrobe. It may be of heavy linen, cotton crash, or spunge; or it may be of thin serge, woolen, ratine or corduroy. The last named

BACKACHE IS A DANGER SIGNAL

Kidney Troubles, Bladder Disorders, Rheumatism, and Serious Diseases Follow.

There are other symptoms, such as pains in the region of the kidneys, nervousness, dizziness, tired and worn-out feeling, weak bladder, or urinary troubles, which are just as dangerous, for the slightest kidney derangement if neglected may develop into the deadly Bright's diseases, dropsy or diabetes.

It is not only dangerous, but needless, for you to suffer and endure the tortures of these troubles, for Croxone promptly ends all such misery.

There is no more effective remedy for kidney, bladder trouble and rheumatism, than Croxone, because it reaches the cause of the trouble, goes to the kidneys, through the walls and linings, cleans out the clogged up pores, neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and waste matter, and causes those terrible rheumatic pains, and makes the kidneys filter the poison from the blood and drives it out of the system.

Three doses of Croxone a day for a few days in order, all that is needed to relieve the worst backache or overcome disagreeable urinary disorders.

From will find Croxone different from other remedies, so no need to take it without results. An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if it should fail in a single case.

is a lasting material and is extremely serviceable for school wear.

The cotton crash materials so commonly used in summer are really far better for winter school days than for hot summer vacations. Those who wear them during the hot days of August will find them extremely uncomfortable. They are excellent, however, for indoor wear in the winter.

No matter what the choice of material it is wise to build the gowns on simple lines with as few accessories as possible. School girls do not have a great deal of time for dressing, especially in the morning and it takes considerable time to hunt up a belt, a collar, a gumpie, etc., which are not fastened to the dress or blouse.

Plaid is ever popular and is now used in a new way. There are plaid skirts of it that are quite as narrow as plain ones, and these are banded at the hem with a solid color and have a negligee blouse of plain fabric with collar and cuffs of the plaid. There are short pleated tunics of plaid material dropping over a narrow skirt of a plain color and the blouse is built of the two fabrics, well mingled. A girl's evening frock should never be very expensive or too ornate. The materials may be muslin, net, allover lace and taffeta, but not satin, brocade or velvet. They should never be cut low and the sleeves should be elbow or shorter, if becoming. The fashion for sashes and ornate girdles permits of a variety of color effects, even when the material of the frock is white. These girdles may be made at home by a clever seamstress, as they are simply built of ribbon on featherbone and can be draped about the waist in any way that proves effective.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl and have been going with a boy for a year and a few months and now we are mad. Can you tell me something to do to gain his love again? We do not speak. Should I speak or let him? He loves me and I love him. He has good habits and is a good looking fellow. He is going with other girls now and I do not like it.

Next time you see him you might smile at him pleasantly and make him know you are willing to make up. Don't let him think you are too anxious, though. Next time don't quarrel, my dear. Quarreling always means suffering, and quarreling is only a foolish trick that separates good friends forever.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—Is it proper for two boys to fight about one girl? We are boys about twenty years old.

(2)—How long should a man be engaged before he gets married?

(3)—I had a girl and I sent her a bad valentine just for fun, now she is mad about it. How can I cheer her up again?

(4)—What is good for stubbornness? I have a girl that is very stubborn.

(5)—Is it proper for a boy to smoke when he takes his girl out?

(1)—Why fight over one girl? There are plenty of other girls—nice ones, too.

(2)—If he is able to support a wife and is sure he loves her enough to try and make her happy, no man should wait a minute. Ask the girl to set the day as soon as possible.

(3)—Have you apologized to her? (4)—It is almost impossible to cure stubbornness. People of really good brains are never stubborn.

(5)—He should ask her permission to smoke.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—Can you tell me something I can do for my hair? My hair is blonde, but is excessively oily.

(2)—What will make the hair stay curly?

(3)—Is there anything that will remove the stains on a white linen table cover?

(1)—Apply the following mixture every day, rubbing it well into the scalp: 2-oz. alcohol, 2-oz. witch hazel, 14 gr. resorcin.

(2)—Curling Lotion: 120 gr. potassium carbonate, 1 fl. dr. ammonia water, 12 fl. dr. alcohol, rosewater enough to make 15 fluid ounces. Moisten the hair, adjust it loosely and then really dry.

(3)—A few drops of oxalic acid will do it. Be sure to rinse well in water after using the acid.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Do you think a young man can love a young lady when he isn't considerate of her? Have been engaged to him a year and he doesn't average calling more than once a week. He doesn't love me, does he? He makes regular arrangements.

Usually, when a young man loves a girl he can't see too much of her. He wants to be with her every possible minute.

There is some other very good reason why your fiancée cannot call on you more regularly. I should judge that your fiancée's ardent has cooled considerably. Also, I do not think a man can really love a young woman unless he is considerate of her. Though some men really don't know what consideration is for a woman, even when engaged to her. It might be a good idea to show this young man how independent of him you can be. If that doesn't bring him to time, you will perhaps be happier if you break the engagement.

Lightful ways of boiling, baking and creaming them alone, if it were not for onions?

Cultivate the taste and habit for onions in cooking and every few days have them served raw. They do say that if girls will eat raw onions every day they will have a beautiful pink-and-white complexion. That could be true, for they are a very good tonic. People who have some "nerves" should eat them very freely, cooked or uncooked. As I have told you before, don't turn the water from them into the sink after they are cooked. Steam or cook them in a small amount of water with the cover off. Begin at the root of the onion, peeling upwards, and the juice will come out. If you peel the onion with the finger with running water the eyes will not smart.

The nicest way to cook tender young onions is in boiling salted water, letting on about three inches of the tops. Serve on slices of buttered toast, and pour a thin cream sauce over them, sprinkling with finely chopped parsley. Sliced young onions, cooked as the above young onions, and then slightly browned in butter and served on toast, are also very good.

Holland Vine Salad. Choose fine, medium sized tomatoes. Put them into the wire basket, dip into boiling water, let stand a moment and peel. Stand on ice until very cold. When ready to serve, slice on lettuce and make four or five vertical slices or incisions being careful not to cut clear through. Have a sharp knife and slice the onion very thin—just sheer slices—between the slices of tomatoes, making a fan-like shape. Cover all with a French dressing and serve at once. Finely chopped peppers or parsley over the top is attractive and good.

Every Day Talks for Every Day People

By FRANCIS JOYCE KENNEDY

What is your husband's income? How do you use it? Are you a careful purchaser. Do you attend sales and if so do you profit thereby?

Now this is no little wrangle for the storekeepers, for the men and women behind the great sales movement. This is just a little job to recover money to enable you to live. You have not already started to save, to begin now—today. No matter what my income may be, I can, if so decide, save some of it, at least a little part.

If I persist in so doing, I have at the end of the year an amount of money—even though it be small—that I own through no great exertion, unless it be of will power. I have not been myself the victim of a well-housed and clothed. Neither have I shut the door on the land of amusements. I have simply decided to live wisely and well, to spend judiciously, and to be a little less prodigal with my amusement fund. It is said that the poorest people live the most wasteful. This is rather a sweeping assertion to make. However, as I do not make it, I pass it on to my readers. You may be able to derive benefit from it. I did. How?

I resented the inference that if I be poor, they were so from fault of my own. And yet—take your own husband's income. How much do you do you waste? You are certainly positively so, that not one cent is wasted. I want to meet you! We all want to meet you! The woman that can stand up and say—backing her words with demonstration—that she wastes not one cent of her husband's income, is a woman to be cultivated. Frankly speaking, do any of us think she is a myth? Housekeeping is a science and we've been told that so many times that we're just weary of hearing it. Still its true as truth itself. If the housewife and her keepers could but realize the importance of the position we hold (I've written this sentence so often that it's getting to be a stock phrase) and embrace the fact that the housework is monotonous or drudgery, we'd be taking a long step in the right direction.

Old-fashioned housekeeping is on the wane. Cabaret housekeeping seems to be the order of the day. The systematic preparing of three meals each day seems to be so much of a task for the average wife and mother—especially if they be conveniently located to the corner grocery, laying out in cans and paper bags may be all right occasionally. As a steady diet for a man and growing children its far from satisfactory and there isn't one of us who would ever attempt to defend the plan of the grocer.

That's one way to squander your husband's income. That's one way to keep that dream of home that you have locked in your heart as a sacred thing, from ever coming true. Are you willing? What is your husband's income and are you living inside of it?

By means of the automatic gearshift the owner of the new car will

AN OLD REMEDY
Beef, Iron and Wine is one of the good old remedies that has outlived a score of patent tonics, reasonable in price, a satisfactory tonic, appetizer and mild stimulant. There is nothing better for that tired, worried, listless feeling or run-down condition of the system after illness of any kind. It tones the whole system, stimulates digestion, gives you appetite, is a good iron tonic for weak, pale children or old people, far more effective than malt extracts or so-called wine of cod liver oil that depend upon their stimulants alone. Beef, Iron and Wine tones and sustains, it assists nature to recuperate, it's a food to the sick and nursing mothers.

Mr. Pfennig, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, prepares our Beef, Iron and Wine. It's always fresh, made from the very best extract of beef, wholesome, properly aged sherry wine and soluble iron.

We don't sell ready-made, hand-made, factory-manufactured Beef, Iron and Wine. We believe and know that medicine should be compounded only by the experienced and scientifically trained.

Try a bottle of our Beef, Iron and Wine as made by Mr. Pfennig, 15c a full pint. Note its wholesome taste and invigorating effect. You will be more than satisfied. Get it at the Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee and River streets.

PUBLIC NOTICE.
Persons Answering Fraudulent Advertisements Asked to Notify Gazette.
The Gazette is desirous of keeping out of its columns fraudulent advertising and asks the assistance of its patrons to that end.
There are any number of concerns in the country who make a living through a nicely worded advertisement, offering golden opportunities, and these unscrupulous people find fertile ground for work among the masses.
Many orders are received in the Gazette mail for advertising which are returned as objectionable and where there is a question as to the qualifications the advertisement is omitted. All newspapers have this experience.
But even with the utmost care there will be an occasional advertisement which will pass the scrutiny of the business department of the paper, and find its way into the columns.
The Gazette will deem it a favor if you will report to the office any trouble which may have been experienced through the answering of such an advertisement.

AMERICAN COUNTESS FINDS AN IDEAL COUNTRY HOME IN SURREY, ENGLAND

Countess Laszlo Szechenyi and Tangley Manor, Surrey.

Countess Laszlo Szechenyi, who was Miss Gladys Vanderbilt of New York, has found an ideal country residence in Surrey, England. Tangley Manor, it is called, and she and her Hungarian count plan on spending each summer there hereafter. Countess Szechenyi's third daughter was born there last month.

Judging Character.
We may judge a man's character by what he loves—what pleases him. If a man manifests delight in low and sordid objects—the vulgar song and debasing language—in the misfortunes of his fellows, or cruelty to animals, we may at once determine the complexion of his character. On the contrary, if he loves purity, modesty, truth—if virtuous pursuits engage his heart and draw out his affections—we are satisfied that he is an upright man.

Daily Healthogram.

A cup of hot milk, sipped slowly just before retiring, often induces sleep. A brisk walk, half an hour or so before retiring, is another sleep producer. A moderate, comfortable bed, plenty of air and light, but sufficiently warm bedding, are other first aids to proper sleep.
